How to get to Aachen

- By train:
From Cologne or Paris/Brussels/Liège there are direct high speed trains to Aachen. You will arrive at Aachen Main station near city center. You may walk to a hotel nearby or take a taxi to the city center. In case the weather is alright it is also only a 15 minutes walk to the center.
- By plane:
You may land in Düsseldorf, Cologne or Frankfurt Airport. From Düsseldorf/Cologne you may rent a car to get to Aachen or you may take the regional trains (approx. 1.5 hours to Aachen main station). From Frankfurt there is a high speed train to Cologne (1 hour), then you may take the regional train (1 hour) to Aachen main station.

How to move in Aachen

- By train:
You may take regional trains („Euregiobahn“, RB 20) to get from Aachen main station to Aachen West station near Super C building.
- By bus:
Please use the ring lines 3A/B and 13A/B to travel along the traffic ring in Aachen. A/B denotes the direction. For more details see www.aseaq.de.
- By walk
If the weather is nice you will be able to move in Aachen by foot easily. From city center and main station it will take you 15/30 minutes to Super C, respectively.
